Assistant Dean

 New York City

Pace has been in an incredibly meaningful long-term partnership with CEFAM over the past 40 years. Students coming to our New York City campus on the 3+1 double degree have been rigorously prepared, open to learning about our culture, and extremely ambitious. Moreover, they have been a pleasure to have on campus and have enriched our community, participated in student organizations, and have expanded our students' cross-cultural competencies. Their unique educational experience, including two degrees, has led to successful internships and careers that now span the globe.

The Fox School of Business is delighted to celebrate our long-time collaborative exchange agreement with CEFAM, providing dual degree programs and study abroad opportunities to students from around the world! As one of the original partnership institutions, CEFAM students benefit from the quality of an American business education in an international setting, preparing students to engage in their business major courses at Fox and adapt nicely to the global Temple University community. Fox students, in turn, have the advantage of studying at Lyon (France's second largest city), within walking distance of many restaurants, shops, museums and historic monuments. With an array of course offerings in business, hospitality and tourism management and more, study abroad at CEFAM is well worth the trip! In either direction, students transform into globally minded professionals as a result of rigorous learning and cultural exploration delivered through the CEFAM/Fox School of Business partnership.

College of Business

At the Norm Brodsky College of Business at Rider University, we deeply value our partnership with CEFAM and the exceptional students it brings to our campus. CEFAM's reputation for academic excellence and its commitment to preparing students for global business challenges is evident in every interaction we have with its students.

Our faculty consistently praise CEFAM students for their strong foundation in business principles, their global mindset, and their active engagement within our campus community. We commend the leaders at CEFAM for their forward-thinking approach and unwavering dedication to cultivating the future success of their students.
